National Governors Association Launches Initiative to Improve Education and Economies

The National Governors Association (NGA) chair, Oklahoma Governor Mary Fallin, recently discussed the rollout of NGA's initiative America Works: Education and Training for Tomorrow's Jobs. The year-long effort will focus on improving state education and workforce training systems and aligning these systems with the needs of state economies.

$30M in Employment Training Panel (ETP) Funds to Upskill Workers

The Chancellor's Office has been in coordination with other state agencies on sector strategies that improve the skill level of California's workforce. The ETP made an award of \$1.2M for training in 2013 to advance workers skills in advanced manufacturing. ETP estimates $30M in new funds in 2014 for upskilling incumbent workers, and plans to further leverage the newly established regional community college Sector Navigator and Deputy Sector Navigator structure to deploy those funds. Colleges interested in these funds should engage with their Deputy Sector Navigators to refine curriculum that meets employer needs. The Chancellor's Office will continue to work to seeks ways to make it easier for others to partner with our system through the Doing What MATTERS for Jobs and the Economy framework.

JPMorgan Chase Launches $250 Million Global Economic Opportunity Initiative

In December, JPMorgan Chase launched an unprecedented five-year, $250M global workforce readiness and demand-driven training initiative called New Skills at Work. The new initiative will be the largest ever private-sector effort aimed at addressing the "skills gap" that exists across many industries and accounts for one-third of unemployment, such as healthcare and advanced manufacturing, where not enough trained workers have the specific skills to fill the jobs available. The program aims to revolutionize the way employers and skills trainers develop talent for jobs in local high-growth industries through research, data and investments. Read more »
